

1. Getting Started

- Confirm jurisdiction – Confirm reciprocal licensure requirements in the specific U.S. jurisdiction where you seek licensure, and confirm that they will accept an NCARB Certificate issued through the Foreign Architect Path to Certification. If the jurisdiction where you seek licensure does not accept certification through the Foreign Architect Path, you may still be eligible to pursue certification through the standard path or through an Education Evaluation Services for Architects \(EESA\) evaluation.
- Establish or update NCARB Record – To proceed with the Foreign Architect Path, you will need to establish an NCARB Record if you do not already have one. You must establish or update your NCARB Record with all the required information including education and licensure information.
Please note that the first and last name on your primary form of identification, as outlined in the ARE Guidelines, must be the same as the first and last name that appears in your NCARB Record. If you need to change the name shown in your NCARB Record, you can update your legal name through my.ncarb.org. Do not schedule exams until your legal name change request has been approved.
- Indicate interest – To express interest in the Foreign Architect Path, you must enter your international licensure number under the “Licenses” tab of your NCARB Record. You will then receive a message in the overview screen of your Record to indicate interest in the Foreign Architect Path to Certification.

2. Credential Verification Form

- Download the Credential Verification Form (also available in Spanish, Arabic, and Farsi) – This form is used to verify the architecture license issued by your country. It must be completed by the registration/license/credentialing authority of your non-U.S. architecture license. The Credential Verification Form should not be completed by your university. Applicant must complete Part A, and the credentialing authority must complete Part B and submit the final form directly to:

NCARB
C/O International Fulfillment Corporation

Landover, MD 20785
USA

Or email to:
foreignarchitect@ncarb.org

The Credential Verification must be completed in English. If your credentialing authority is unable to complete the form in English, ask the authority to forward the completed form to a translation service, and have the translation service send the original form, the English translation, and a completed Translator Statement of Confirmation Form directly to NCARB. Incomplete forms, falsified forms, and/or forms submitted by applicants will not be accepted.

International Applicant Requirements for Eligibility (as per Section 4 of Certification Guidelines):

- Applicant must have an active license in good standing with no disciplinary actions.
- Country must have a regulatory body or system for documenting disciplinary actions.
- Applicant’s credential must legally allow applicant to provide unlimited architectural services.

Compliance with the requirements listed above must be maintained until a license in a U.S. jurisdiction is obtained.

- The method the transcript was delivered for translation (through postal mail or electronically).

Review Process

The review process may take up to 45 business days after required documents are received. The overview message stating that “documents are required” will remain visible in your NCARB Record until the review process is complete. During the eligibility review, NCARB may be in contact with any third-party translation services you used, your credentialing authority, and/or your university for additional information or clarification.

If you are made eligible for the Foreign Architect Path to Certification, you will be required to pay the Certificate application fee before you can begin scheduling the exam.

Please note, through this path, your testing jurisdiction is “NCARB” and not the U.S. jurisdiction where you plan on getting licensed. In addition to the Certificate application fee, each administration of an Architect Registration Examination® (ARE®) division has a separate fee.

Eligible applicants are also not subject to the Architectural Experience Program® (AXP®) reporting requirement; therefore, all qualified international experience up to 1,860 hours will count for 100% credit. For more information, please review the AXP Guidelines. If you have any questions regarding AXP, ARE, or fees, please review the ARE Guidelines, AXP Guidelines, or contact our Customer Relations department at 202-879-0520.
